Sally's Dilemma (Problem)

Sally picked up a pumpkin, ogled, and put it down again. "You need to hurry up," said her mother. "We can't be late for the party."

"Just pick one already," grumbled Sally's brother. Sally looked at her brother and sister. They each had their own pumpkins in their area. She then looked around the park and at all of the pumpkins. There were hundreds of them.

"I can't find the one I want!" she cried. Her mother looked down and pointed to a small one. "Here is a fine one," she said.
